Did you know?

- The yo-yo is the second oldest known toy in the world (only the doll is older), and was born over 3,000 years ago, in the days of ancient Greece.
- Before anyone called it a “yo-yo” (meaning “come back” or “return in the Phillipines native language) it has had many names including “quiz”, “bandalore” “l'emigrette”, “coblantz”, and “incroyable”. It was called “disk” by the ancient Greeks.
- The oldest surviving yoyo's date back to 500BC. They were terracotta disks decorated with mythological figures. Archaeologists theorise that Ancient Greek children gave these as offerings as part of a coming-of-age ceremony.
- More than a billion yo-yos have been sold in the US since Donald F. Duncan introduced the toy in 1930.
